DUCHESS IS DEFEATED IN KINROSS VOTE

W. McNair Snadden Wins By Majority Of 1,313

CREFF, Scotland, Dec. 22.—The Duchess of Atholl today was defeated in the Kinross and West Perth by-election. The Duchess, who resigned her seat in the House of Commons in order to re-constitute it as an independent in opposition to Prime Minister Chamberlain's foreign policy, lost to Mr. McNair Snadden, Conservative, by a majority of 1,313.

Mr. Snadden polled 11,808 votes against 10,495 for the Duchess. In the 1935 general election, when Mr. Snadden was a Conservative, he polled 15,258 votes against 10,069 for the Duchess.

Mr. Snadden, a Perthshire farmer, ran as a supporter of the Chamberlain government's foreign policy.

THE RESULT will be great encouragement to Mr. Chamberlain as a leader of the Conservative division of the Scottish people.

RUNAWAY TEAM CRASHES AUTO: TRAFFIC HELD

Carreoning down Jasper avenue toward the centre section of the city, a runaway Edmonton City Dairy team and wagon crashed into a auto in front of the Williamson block at 96 street and Jasper, overturning and scattering milk bottles and rolls all over the street and tracks. The accident occurred at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The driver of the wagon, E. C. D. number 16, said today that the team was not on the wagon at the time, having been making a delivery along the wrong side of a short way on Jasper avenue and about 50 persons were hurt by the runaway.

Alvin Holt, 1645 93 street, who was driving the car, the team ran into the side of the car, and the team struck the right front fender of the car and turned over on its side.

The team of horses was unharnessed and all removal of the wagon from the street.

U.S. Gives Nazis Notice Time Now To Respect Rights

America's Stiffening Foreign Policy Places Sternly Worded Note on Fuehrer's Desk

By HERBERT BAILEY
British United Press. Exclusive Cable To The Bulletin
The United States is stiffening its position in world affairs.

On Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's desk in Berlin today there is a sternly worded note from Washington stating that the time has come for Nazis to declare that they will respect the rights of American citizens.

The word has gone around that former British foreign secretary Anthony Eden was given the impression that the United States was far from convinced the outlying countries in Spain would serve the interests of world democracy.

In the halls of the Pan-American conference at Lima, U.S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull labor energetically against formidable obstacles to unite the 21 American republics in a system of free trade and an accord against foreign military and ideological invasion.

Secretary Hull's Proposals Rejected Put Conference in Uproar—President Moreno Sees Militaristic Boxy Looming

By ANDREW BERDING
Associated Press Foreign Staff

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 22.—Argentina threw the Pan-American conference into an uproar last night by rejecting a completed draft of a declaration on continental solidarity and defence and losing in her own resolution with the implication the delegates could take it or leave it.

Indians, Rats, Argentine, Argentine head on basis of instructions received from President Moreno of Argentina, said the rejected draft constituted a military alliance and was therefore unacceptable to Argentina.

The draft had been prepared by State Secretary Cordell Hull of United States. After the official French-Brazilian delegation head and Carlos Cullen of Peru, conference chairman.

Conference leaders worked desperately to reconcile the differences before adjournment Monday or Tuesday.

Indications were that if Argentina refused to alter her position, the 20 republics might adjourn without her. The secretary of state, however, said he would not constitute a military alliance through the conference.

Argentina remained adamant, however, and said their instructions were to reject the draft.

SNOW BLOCKS HIGHWAYS IN BRITISH ISLES

Trains, Shipping, Air Services Disorganized By Weather

By PAT USHER

LONDON, Dec. 22.—A heavy snow storm across the British Isles today, ending a five-day period of rain. But a cold crisis arrived simultaneously with the snow, and the country's climb above the freezing point.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—Snow-bound Britain today surveyed Christmas Eve scenery and wonder how long it was going to last. From all parts of the British Isles except Wales and the south-western tip of England came the same story—roads blocked, trains delayed and shipping and air services disorganized by weather conditions.

Temperatures rose slightly Wednesday but experts predicted the snow would continue and warned more snow was to be expected. Londoners trudged through slush as the mercury rose to 32 degrees above zero.

ROADS IMPASSABLE
Motorists were advised to leave their cars at home as roads in all directions are becoming impassable.

Keel and Yorkshire had five-foot drifts in places. Thunderside, a small village in the Yorkshire north-west, was cut off by drifts and other villages faced the same prospect.

On the London-Birmingham main line a shunting train, a train held up more than 200 cars near London. On the London-Birmingham line at Brickhill more than 400 cars were held up by rebound wind-blown snow.

Snow was blamed for derailing of three trains, delaying traffic through Reading and Nottingham. London's electric suburban services were started as late as 10 a.m.

Christmas took their own all stars to a Christmas entertainment at St. George's school, Portland, Dorset, in order to keep the school open.

Bully beef as Christmas fare is in prospect for men in the Tarkar Light House and the Tarkar off the stormbound Westford coast of Ireland.

FIVE MEN MAROONED
A supply of trucks, pudding and Christmas cake is waiting at Rosneath, but a relief boat will be unable to reach the marooned men unless the gale abates and a change in the weather before Saturday.

It is regarded as a miracle that there are five men on the Tarkar and 10 each in the Tarkar Blackwater, Lancel, Barrels, and Cornish.

These keepers of the storm-lashed Black Rock light near Penzance—the light that great Atlantic travellers bound for Europe were taken ashore today, ending long isolation.

RELIEF WEEKS OVERDUE
Their relief was five weeks overdue because they were abated sufficiently for a launch to reach the light.

The men were replaced by a fresh train with suitable Christmas fare by way of contrast to the previous European conditions, Ireland to the north "welcomed" in 48 degrees permitting farmers to work their plots.

Normally the ground there is bare from October to Spring.

Five Families In Vancouver Driven From Their Homes

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22.—One fireman was injured and five families driven from their beds early today when a two-alarm fire gutted a two-story factory, destroyed a small store adjoining the establishment, and threatened a five-unit apartment. Damage was estimated at $20,000.

Alex. McQueen, 43, fireman, was taken to hospital for treatment. He had been burned in the face. He was not detained.

C.N.R. To Spend $3,000,000 For New Montreal Depot

MONTREAL, Dec. 22.—Canadian National Railways will spend about $3,000,000 during 1939 on construction of the first stage of a $12,000,000 railway terminal and depot at Montreal, S. J. Hunterford, president, announced today. Tenders will be called tomorrow for preliminary excavating and concrete work.

"The entire program will be spread over several years," said Mr. Hunterford. "The best areas at the present time is three years."

Members To Aid Recovery Of Cars

REGINA, Dec. 22.—As a member assisting police in recovery of stolen cars, regulations governing applications for motor licenses have been unchanged. In future not only the serial number but the engine number as well will be required on the application for license.

Tribute To Bennett

CALGARY, Dec. 22.—Members of the Central United church here are preparing an illuminated address for Rt. Hon. B. Bennett, former Canadian Conservative party leader in Canada, commemorating his 41 years service to the church. A banquet is planned for Mr. Bennett January 4 prior to his departure for England.

A piece of paper, placed upon the large end of a funnel, cannot be blown off by blowing air into the small end.

Had there been a beauty contest as well as swimming championship, 17-year-old Dorothy Heath of Long Beach Junior College no doubt would have been a double winner. She won the annual Mid-West Swim at Long Beach, Calif.

CITY COST DOWN BUT BENEFIT IS PARTIALLY LOST

Though the city's cost for material relief in November was down $15,000 from October, the benefit to recipients was only partially lost.

Grants-in-aid from the provincial government, which is partly made up of federal funds, is approximately $15,000, as compared with $13,000 paid in September this year. The grant now is paid as 50 per cent of the cost of material aid, where it formerly was a lump sum.

The province benefits $15,000 from the reduction in relief out.

Proper Technique For Carving Christmas Turkey Revealed at Last Wins Laurels

Designer of the national war memorial in Whitehall, Sir Edwin Lachry was elected president of the British Royal Academy in London. He succeeded the late Sir William Llewellyn, who held the post 19 years. Sir Edwin designed the new British Embassy at Washington, Liverpool's Roman Catholic Cathedral, the King George V Memorial at Windsor and the Australian War Memorial. Sir King George VI opened last summer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The U.S. government has issued an official bulletin on the proper technique for carving the Christmas turkey.

"The turkey rules in on the platter, back down," the Bureau of Home Economics, of which Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is boss, announced. "The first problem is fatness: should he stand or sit while carving?"

The government grants father the constitutional right to do as he pleases, but suggests a short session, had better stand and a tall person at the most effective work.

The next problem, says the bulletin, is the point of attack. It is here that many a kind of the turkey, the carving before him, has lost the Christmas spirit through ignorance and awkwardness.

Few Simple Rules
Only a few simple rules need be followed. The most important is to keep the bird on the platter. A bird set on the table, the bureau estimates, is worth two on the tablecloth or stove.

The bureau said, "remove the leg from the body by grasping it in your left hand and cutting the joint down to the hip joint. Then move the wings and other leg. The second rule is to cut a policy across the breastbone toward the end of the neck, to anchor the bird down while you carve the breast in slices, using a slight sawing motion."

Streamlined Turkey
If you don't like the shape of your turkey, or the distribution of dark and white meat, just will be carved, however are developing a streamlined turkey.

Just a few years, they will have developed a turkey that will have among other things, more white meat, a longer keel bone, a more compact body and shorter legs.

One Question Unanswered
The government's instructions left one vital question unanswered: the position of the turkey during the carving operation. The bureau continued to leave it up to the official, ruling on that.

"If you sit," said the bureau, "you stand, or the turkey, if you stand, point either side—whichever you prefer—toward the carving operation."

Grading System Assures Quality For Purchasers
The festive season is almost here and the turkey is the main dish of the day, which, of course, should be turkey.

It is more economical to buy graded poultry. You pay the price for the quality you require and there is no chance of disappointment. The only point to remember is to buy the grade you require. You can be absolutely confident that a grade A turkey at 18 pounds and a grade A turkey at 20 pounds are of the same quality. The grading of poultry has definitely made it economical to retailers to sell as well as to extra cost to the consumer. It has now become an assured fact through Canada and also Great Britain that all articles of food should be sold on a graded basis. Hereafter it has become difficult for the average housewife to be certain of the quality of the bird which she was buying. But these conditions have been met in this new era of graded products, the turkey stands out.

You have a duly certified and graded bird when there is either a metal wing or a colored strip on the breast which designates the particular grade and the color can be easily recognized by their color. You are not assailed by any doubts as to previous years that it will not be as delicious a bird as you would expect on the Christmas table. The old inefficient methods of merchandising poultry are doomed to extinction. All purchasers of poultry this season should look for the colored grade tag either on wing or breast and we follow the color and the grade. The color and the grade are: Purple—Grade A. Blue—Grade B.

VICTORIA, Dec. 22.—Hon. W. J. Auld, British Columbia's minister of the interior and industry, announced today W. H. MacDonald of Vancouver, B.C., has been appointed travelling representative of the trade department's travel bureau.

Poultry Standardized In Color Tag System

Purple, Red and Blue Mark Quality Specified by Inspectors

Development of standardization of grading dressed poultry has progressed with great stride in Canada, as it has in Great Britain and the United States.

Now, producer, retailer and consumer recognize this method and it is rapidly becoming the buying habit of thousands who look to this method for their protection on quality.

All dressed poultry exported out of Canada must be accompanied by a domestic government certificate, which gives both buyer and seller the protection and confidence which is necessary to the encouragement of good trade relations. The same can be said on certified shipments of dressed poultry made between provinces in Canada, and to the ultimate consumer, who makes a purchase in the retail store.

During the past four or five years the grading of dressed poultry at the Christmas season has been carried out by inspectors of the domestic department of agriculture and has resulted in the consumer recognizing the protection that retailers of this product are giving their customers.

Turkey Dinners For Unemployed

Unemployed at the government "Test camp" situated at Westlock, Evansburg, Galloway, and Marlboro will receive turkey dinners on Christmas day, officials of the provincial relief department said Thursday. There are more than 1,000 in the camps which are kept open for men physically unfit for placement under the farm work schemes. Families on provincial relief will receive hampers.

Now, producer, retailer and consumer recognize this method and it is rapidly becoming the buying habit of thousands who look to this method for their protection on quality.

E.A.C. JUNIORS TRIUMPH IN INTERMEDIATE BATTLE

Golden Bears Are Handed 9-3 Thumping

By KEN MATHIAS

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA Golden Bears proved no match for E. A. C. at the arena last night as the powerful junior sextet skated to a 9-3 victory in the Intermediate Hockey League. It was the first meeting this season between the two clubs.

The Chubmen piled up a 7-0 lead in the first two periods and added another in the final canto before the students were able to break into the scoring column. Content with their huge lead, the juniors grew careless in the final stanza and spoiled Golden Cliff Kilburn's chances of chalking up a shutout.

Johnny Chad and Bobby Carney led the juniors with two markers each while Bill Stark counted the same number for the hosts. Chad was really flying last night, the senior defenseman and bulwark of the team, scoring four of the nine goals.

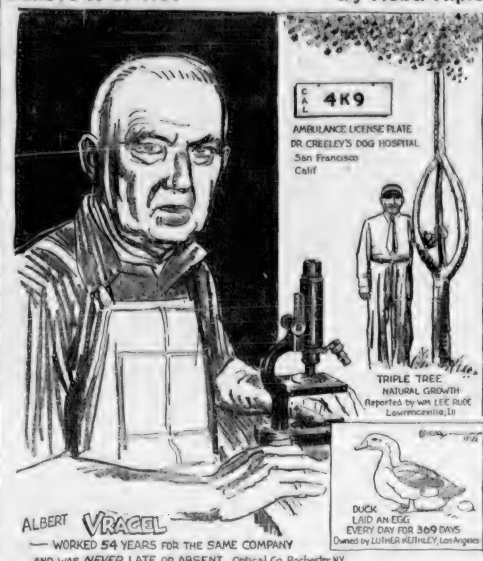

Chad scored enough to high stick any opposing player but to highlight a referee, well that's dynamic. Bill Stark and Johnny Chad were banished for carrying their sticks high.

Johnny Chad scored early, netting that he was plenty hot as he enabled the puck near the four-minute mark of the initial period, outskated a variety forward, covered by the standard defense and blasted home the rubber for one of the prettiest goals scored in the intermediate circuit this season.

The second period proved dramatic as the juniors scored on a power play. The full power of the juniors was evident as they scored on a goal after Patrick, Chad, Steffen, Kory and Chad scored in the latter half of the second period. The juniors scored on a goal after Chad, Steffen, Kory and Chad scored in the latter half of the second period.

Frankie Brimsek Looms As Strong Contender For 'Prize Rookie' Award

There are several fine rookies in the NHL. This season, but the light being shed by Frank Brimsek, scintillating Boston defenseman, shines them far back from the limelight.

Boston fans came out to see him the night he replaced Tim Thompson. And Frankie sent them away cheering their heads off. They're been cheering ever since.

He would like to duplicate the feat of his fellow townsmen Mike Karakas by capturing the "Prize Rookie" award. They both hail from Swift, Minnesota. If he keeps up the current hot pace he will be a clutch.

EDEN'S RETURN MAY FORECAST CABINET POST

Daily Mail Says Chamberlain Likely Ask Him To Rejoin

LONDON, Dec. 22.—Anthony Eden returned to England Wednesday from his brief visit to the United States to find himself in the center of reports he may re-enter the cabinet.

The Daily Mail (independent) said the former foreign secretary would be invited by Prime Minister Chamberlain to rejoin the government early in the New Year.

The paper said several ministers had suggested Mr. Eden, who resigned from the foreign office last February, be given one of the defense departments, but it is not known whether he will accept.

A cabinet reshuffle has been widely predicted for several days, possibly to occur in January.

Eden's about his visit to the United States, and pleased to have "seen ourselves as others see us," Mr. Eden in a broadcast and in press interviews today confined himself exclusively to comment on America and the Americans.

WELL INFORMED

In an address he said he had formed opinions in the United States "deeply interested in world events and particularly in Europe and the Far East."

Americans are well informed in these matters, he added. "The comments of the principal newspapers are thoughtful and shrewd. I cannot help feeling that it would be all to the good if these editorials were more widely reproduced in this country."

INSPIRING TRIP

"As you know, it has been my duty to travel in many lands, but I have never, as I can truly say I have never had an experience which has been so instructive and so inspiring as this brief journey to the other side of the Atlantic."

The last thing we want to do is to relegate other countries in our travels. At the same time it is surely most important that we should have the fullest information as to the outlook of the great democracies across the Atlantic upon world problems today. It is also healthy from time to time to see ourselves as others see us."

Kai-Shek Forces U. S. Great Britain To Face Maintenance Of China

By ELMER PETERSON Associated Press Foreign Staff

HONG KONG, Dec. 22.—General Chiang Kai-Shek has compelled United States and Great Britain to face squarely the issue of maintenance of a free and independent China.

In talks with the British and American ambassadors he Chinese leader explicated on the military and economic situation in peacetime and the need for aid from the world's democracies.

Credit for any such help in the form of British and American credits to China—where the Japanese attempt to close the door to trade—must go to Chiang.

TO TURN ELSEWHERE

In his talks with the ambassadors he made it plain that if China did not receive encouragement from the democracies she would turn elsewhere—either toward Soviet Russia or to the totalitarian states, possibly seeking any peace terms through German mediation.

The showdown between China and the democracies had its beginning when Chiang and the British ambassador, Sir Archibald Kerr, conferred at Chungking late in November.

Today President H. H. King said at Chungking the $200,000 credit authorized by the United States Export-Import bank would be used for development of industry and communications in China's war-provoked areas.

OPEN-HEART QUESTION

Chiang was described as having made it an open and shut question of whether a still-fighting China remained with the democracies or went elsewhere. He was under no illusion as to the fact that the United States and Great Britain practically have a tabula rasa position.

Something has to be done—what?—before it would win in the end.
